Stowe In The Summer: A Haven For Active Travelers

For vacationers or business travelers interested in shopping, trail biking, golf, summer festivals, art or hiking, Stoweflake Mountain Resort & Spa in picturesque Stowe, Vermont is an ideal base. On property, visitors may choose from a variety of guest rooms, suites, family ski houses, or twin houses. Charlie B's is a welcoming family restaurant and bar. Borrow a bicycle and ride the three or five mile Stowe Recreation Path to the center of the village of Stowe, with its eateries, galleries and fun weekend events. Recoup at poolside, or with a treatment at world class Spa At Snowflake- the Apres Ski is a great treatment for active tourists. One may bike or drive to nearby Trapp Family Lodge (yes, THOSE Trapp's). Here there are 13 well designed miles of trail.

Check out nearby microbreweries, local wineries, or craft foods. Summer fest themes range from a balloon event on property in late June or early July, a brew and music festival, and art weekends. Those reserving for fall change of colors should book early. This is beautiful country during the summer, lending logic to the nickname The Green Mountain State. Postcard views are everywhere. Stoweflake Mountain Resort also offers tennis, its own golf course, and has a fitness center, separate rooms for yoga and other wellness routines and classes. Less busy vacationers will appreciate the spacious grounds, quiet gardens, and generous suites. Come to Stoweflake to enjoy recreation, or bask in relaxation- or a little of both.
