FLYING PUMPKINS, FIERY FOLIAGE, AND FALL PACKAGES AT STOWEFLAKE MOUNTAIN RESORT AND SPA IN STOWE, VERMONT

STOWE, Vt. (July 28, 2016) – Nowhere is fall more spectacular than in Stowe, Vermont, home to the country's highest concentration of sugar maple trees and Stoweflake Mountain Resort and Spa. Set against the backdrop of the majestic Green Mountains and with easy proximity to the historic village, Stoweflake entices leaf peepers with lively outdoor events, a world-class spa, and seasonal packages. Resort guests will enjoy indoor and outdoor swimming pools, nine-hole golf course, tennis courts, and a state-of-the-art sports & wellness center. The resort's own trails, ablaze with color this time of year, are ideal for hiking and mountain biking. Stoweflake guests delight in the many complimentary resort activities available.

Vermont Pumpkin Chuckin' Festival, September 25 – Those looking for good old fashioned fun will enjoy the Vermont Pumpkin Chuckin' Festival, a one-day celebration on the Stoweflake event field where do-it-yourself mechanical wizards of all ages attempt to launch pumpkins as far as possible with trebuchets, which are medieval siege engines. Along with the pumpkin chuckin' contest come music, children's activities, chili cook-off, mini-Olympics, and great food, all creating an enjoyable Vermont fall day. Festival runs from 11am-4pm and benefits local charities.

Other colorful local events include the British Invasion Automobile Show, September 16-18, 2016; Stowe Oktoberfest, October 1-2, 2016; and the Stowe Foliage Arts Festival, October 7-9, 2016.
